

Minnesota: The Birthplace of HealthTech

Minnesota is home to the world's greatest concentration of health technology companies.

As well as being the birthplace of one of the greatest advancements in modern medicine – the implantable cardiac pacemaker – it is the place where the HealthTech industry meets with health care providers, insurance companies and research bodies to improve patient access to innovation.

In this webinar for ABHI members, representatives from Medical Alley and the Minnesota Department of Employment and Economic Development will detail the significant opportunities associated with doing business in the State.

As part of ABHI's own US Accelerator Programme, 2024 will see the UK group visit Minnesota, and we are delighted to be developing these Transatlantic discussions with partners in the region.
